*Our ultimate goal is to help you free yourselves from oppression.
Religious oppression and oppression of your own minds.
To teach you that you were not born unclean.
To teach you how to protect yourself,
and to give you knowledge to enrich your own lives.
To tell you who and what we truly are,
to show you, you do not have to fear Hell.
To show you we have no desire to hurt you.
To tell you the true story of creation. — Lucifer*

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He causes me to lie down in green pastures; He leads me beside still waters. He restores my soul; He leads me in paths of righteousness for His name's sake. — Psalms 23

The vast majority of people who will find their way to this book understand they are not sheep and should not be treated as such. People work with Demons because they are not content to lie with their head down on green pastures and be told to desire nothing while their life passes them by.

Should you approach the information printed on these following pages with respect and an open mind, you will find you've just found a key to finally break free from the herd and practice real Magick that will create positive change in your life.

Blessings,
The Order

A LETTER FROM THE ORDER

What Is Luciferianism?

Luciferianism is not considered a traditionally defined system of beliefs by most, however we are out to change this. The Order believes that Luciferianism is a religion of truth, enlightenment, knowledge, and responsibility. Note that you do not have to be a Luciferian to do Demonic Magick, nor will you suffer in Hell for working with Demons. This is only to explain The Orders view of established Luciferianism.

Truth

We Luciferians believe that Lucifer was equal parts creator with the Abrahamic “God.” We also believe that it was Lucifer who was determined to be a light bearer for humanity. We believe that determination to allow humans to have free will and not be treated as puppets is what caused the grand separation of the Abrahamic God and Lucifer.

Hell

It is promised to us through centuries of working with Demons, divination, speaking with the deceased, and through Lucifer himself that Lucifer left willingly and set out to make Hell a place that not only punishes the wicked as intended, but also is a place of grand prosperity, safety, love and joy for his followers after death. We do not believe that you will burn in Hell for working with Demons or calling to Lucifer.

Soul

We know that you do not have to “sell your soul” to have an outstanding life, and that you can carve out whatever destiny you choose through the study and practice of Demonic Magick, as well as cultivating a strong relationship with Lucifer and his Legion. We believe that humans do have a soul, and within it contains the divine spark that contains the energy to connect to the realm of Demons and Angels. We believe it is the soul that allows you to ignite the sigil and open the portal from this life to the next.

Hauntings

Many will wonder if working with the demonic will cause hauntings in their home or if they will be left vulnerable to possession. Both thoughts couldn't be further from the truth. The Demons we work with in this book are Royal demons which have no interest into haunting your home or possessing you. They simply do not have to since they are higher level Demons. The Demons you may hear of who do this are lower level Demons that are typically brought into a space with a quija board or vague magick that leaves one vulnerable. Lower level Demons are essentially worker Demons who are just looking for a life source to grab onto. The Royal Demons we use are more than willing to cast them back where they belong and are far more effecient than a religious house blessing, sage clearing, or an exorcism. The sigils in this book only allow in the specific spirit named and provide you protection and the ability to close that portal at any time.

Responsibility

We do not walk around chanting the self-absorbed phrase of "Do what thou wilt", nor do we promote anarchy. We believe that you have the freedom to create your desired life, but that you are not free from the consequences of purely evil actions.

Man was given the gift of free will, and Demons are willing to use their abilities to help you exercise that free will. However people forget that Lucifer was technically an Angel and his moral code did not disappear.

Lucifer lives a very noble life. One that allows him to rule out of respect and love rather than fear. Lucifer still runs the hive in the other half of Hell, which has levels that will be explained for punishing people who act in pure self-interest at the cost of the innocent. Although Luciferians believe that it is your divine right to punish and seek revenge from those who have hurt you or your loved ones, there is a distinct line between seeking justice and seeking evil.

There is truly evil in the world, and you will find in this book that it is not Lucifer or his Legion. You will find that man is the bigger monster. These Demons will grant you what you seek if you put in the work in combination with their discernment. You ultimately however are responsible for how you live your life.

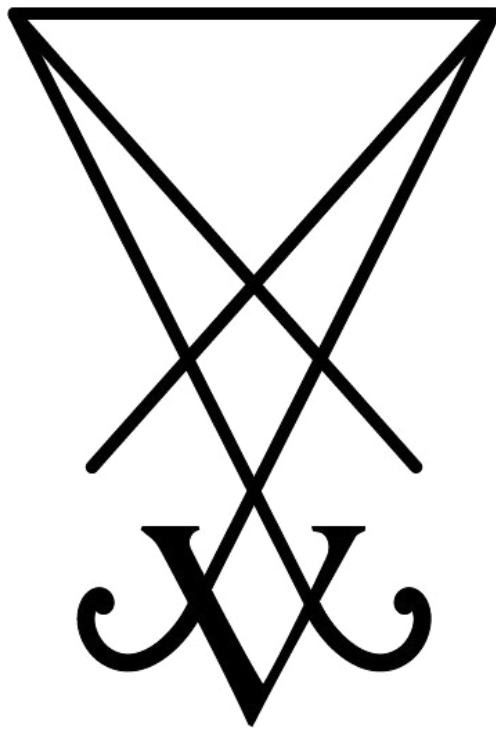

This book is a priceless tool to change your destiny with the help of the Divine. Using Demonic Magick will not hurt you at all unless you are intentionally causing pain to an innocent. We do not in any form promote human sacrifice, torture or the harm of children and animals. Whether you believe in a Christian paradigm or not, it does not change facts. The facts are that you are responsible for the “unjustified” pain that you cause. Use this tool with caution and deep thought.

This tool is not a toy, and once you go down this path you will never be the same. If you ever have the opportunity to join The Order you will never be the same again. You will begin to see how truly evil man can be in the name of God. You will learn to walk out of the shadows and into the light where you realize that you indeed can have everything you ever hoped for through Lucifer’s love.

INTRODUCTION

Judeo-Christian society painted Demons as evil beings preying on the weaknesses of man. Are they indeed corrupted spirits carrying out the desires of Satan? Or are they Fallen Angels who sided with Lucifer during the great rebellion against God, that walked out of heaven because of their love for humanity? If you were to rely upon the Bible and other published material available to formulate your impression about what Demons are, it is doubtful you'd come up with something positive.

Interestingly enough, the original Greek word Daemon from which Demon stems from does not refer to an evil spirit or deity. It refers to a spirit of divine power. In this book, you will undoubtedly learn many things, and one of them is why the Greek definition portrays a more accurate representation than the word Demon we've become familiar with in our predominantly Abrahamicly influenced society. You will learn that Demons are not evil. Sure, they are indeed on the opposing team from Angels, but there are two sides to every story. Unfortunately, most people have only heard one side which came from the Bible. Perhaps if the other side of the story became known, Lucifer and the Demons who followed him would be seen in a much different light.

Both Heaven and Hell have its hierarchy which will be explained in-depth in a later chapter. For now, what is important to know is Demons are not lower beings under the command of Angels. Demons under Lucifer have appeared as many of the Pagan Gods in various cultures throughout history. The ancient Greek, Roman and Hindu Gods were none other than Demons appearing in a different form for a different culture. The reason for this dates back to a historical event called The Tower of Babel which led to God dispersing the Demons and the civilizations who worshipped them in different directions throughout the world. The separation led not only to the different ethnicities, cultures, and languages we have today; but also the different Pagan religions of history. Some of which still exist and continue to be practiced.

With that said you are here for Magick, and not a history lesson about religion. Still, even those who practice Magick and study the western mystery traditions have developed some pre-conceived notions about Demons and their nature. Due to the highly distributed material from The Golden Dawn and other right-hand path orders which stemmed from it, most beginners are discouraged from practicing Demonic Magick. Many practitioners from these traditions claim that it is unethical “low magick” or that the dangers are far too high and is guaranteed to backfire.

If that wasn't enough to keep you away, the old classic grimoires filled with blinds and unnecessary complications make Demonic Magick even further out of reach. The need to create a protection circle, acquire a long list of impractical ritual items and read Hebrew is enough to stop most people from even trying. Commonly, people will begin dabbling with Magick powered by Angelic forces. At least in western society, the vast majority of people raised with a Christian background find Angels a less intimidating way to ease into doing Magick.

Even so Angels are not in any way easier or safer to work with than Demons. There is no need to start with Angelic Magick before trying Demonic Magick. Since you have picked up a book about Demons, this author will assume you are already interested or are at least curious about Demons, how to work with them, and what they can do for you. This book was written to address all of the above while clearing up several misconceptions about Demons that has accumulated due to the Catholic Church and Christian bias. Naturally, those who are already committed to believing the church's dogma will reject everything contained in this book. We have no desire to appeal to the close-minded. This book is for the individual willing to deviate from the flock or at least suspend their disbelief momentarily; long enough to test the Magick taught here and came to his or her conclusions.

Due to the facilities you may have read from likely Christian sources you are encouraged to disregard all information you think you know about Demons. Those who have studied the occult in the past and have read The Lesser Key of Solomon may recall wild descriptions of Demons with reptilian heads and other monstrous features. Although a well-known classic grimoire, The Lesser Key of Solomon does not deserve the credibility it is often given. It was anonymously written and contained no sources or explanations for these descriptions. The truth is Demons usually appear in human form and regularly walk amongst us. Demons were once considered Angels. Leaving heaven did not suddenly cause them to morph into ugly creatures.

Demonic work goes far beyond the mundane. It provides not only material success but spiritual growth as well. That is the beauty of the Left-hand path. Demons will not force you to accept what you have as enough. It is natural for human beings to have wants and needs. Demonic Magick teaches you to embrace your divine right to exercise your free will and manifest your desires— instead of shunning them. Spiritual growth is far more motivating when you are thriving in society instead of trying to ignore the reality of it. This allows you to grow spiritually without disregarding the practical necessities of daily life.

You will not need to sell your soul to be successful in working with Demons. This book will show you how to petition a Demon without doing anything drastic or unsafe. Also, sacrificing an animal or human lives is a practice condemned by The Order. You will find that Demons are willing to work with you to obtain what you desire without taking part in any unethical practices. The most effective and efficient ways to contact a Demon will also be covered. This is achieved without the need for complicated or elaborate rituals. Many people do find that Demons are far easier to contact and work with than Angels.

The Order has revealed proper methods for demonic evocation for the first time. Up until the release of this book, these practices were only to be shared with initiated members. Why would such confidential information be published now? The Order has been tasked to reveal Demons and how they work in a more accurate light. Naturally, it will take quite a bit of effort to counteract the centuries of negative programming put in place about the nature of Demons. With that said, no matter what is included in this book, or future publications, there will always be those who refuse to entertain the idea that Demonic Magick will do anything but corrupt their soul and result in eternal damnation.

Nevertheless, the truth is that Demons love humans and desire interaction. Unfortunately, they have been stigmatized for centuries. As a result, they are feared and avoided by most occultists, and those that do seek them out do so in an incorrect manner that can be quite offensive to the Demon.

Any Magickal act should be approached in a serious manner and with caution. With that said, there is no need to fear for your safety by practicing Magick as instructed by The Order. Demons do not desire to hurt you. A circle of protection drawn with chalk or salt does nothing more than providing the occultist with a false sense of security. After all, you cannot spend your entire life in a protective circle, and a Demon can appear at any given moment if he or she chooses to without being summoned. In addition to learning about all ninety Demons and their place in the hierarchy; you will also be able to identify which Demon to use based on your intended outcome. You can be confident in knowing that the book in your hands right now contains the most effective way to make Demonic contact and achieve your desired Magickal result.

Lastly, let it be clear that although Demonic Magick is considered “Dark Magick,” it is not evil Magick. Just like a knife can be used for protection, to feed yourself, or to cause harm to another— your intention will determine the nature of the result. You can work with Demons for protection, finding love, to help a friend, or to cause harm. A common misconception is that a Demon will give you what you want with complete disregard for your well-being and happiness. Often this is paired with the belief that an Angel will help you achieve your result in a way that is most appropriate for you and in the best interests of your future. This is entirely false. While it is true that a Demon will give you the freedom and respect to determining what is in your own best interests, you can specify the manner you would like your Magickal result to manifest. Let’s say you are thinking about petitioning the Demon Bime for a large sum of money but are worried about the possibility of getting that money in an unfortunate way. For example, a family member with you on their life insurance policy ends up dying, and you receive the money you petitioned through that policy. To prevent this from happening, you can include a restriction on how the money is allowed to manifest in your petition.

It should be noted that when working with Demons in the respectful manner taught in this book, you will find that most Demons will be considerate of your personal life and help you achieve your desired result in an ideal way. When it comes down to it, Demons want to have long-term beneficial relationships with humans. If you are happy with your results, you’ll likely petition them again the next time you are in need and spread the word. This is great for everyone involved. Demons gain absolutely nothing by hurting you. On the other hand, they earn much through the offerings they receive in exchange for their service. The ideal types of offerings for each Demon will be covered later in the book.

Without a doubt if it’s not fear to stop people from working with Demons, it is usually guilt. For many, the Christian guilt from their upbringing ingrained so deeply inside of them is the most difficult to overcome. You have been conditioned to believe it is wrong to use Magick to get what you want. For some reason, taking matters into your own hands and using Magick is considered evil in Christianity. The strangest thing about this is that prayer is none other than a form of Magick. Both prayer and Magick require you to seek the help of a higher power to alter your current situation in some way. Most likely though, you are reading this book because you already know it is your right to use and benefit from Magick.

Is this path right for you? It comes down to whether or not you consider yourself a sheep. Those who walk the left-hand path understand The Lord is not their shepherd because they are not sheep. People turn to demons because they are tired of being shamed for having desires and the idea of using Magick to obtain them. We have free will and desires for a reason. It is our divine right to use Magick so long as it is done in a responsible manner.

CHAPTER 1

CREATION

In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth. Genesis 1:1

The lies of the Bible begin with the exclusion of one all-defining letter (s.) The truth is that The God(s) created Earth. God has a name, however, when something is identified by name it has more power. We will not give him such a luxury. He will only be known as God in this book.

The heavens were already in existence. God and Lucifer; equals in power, ruled the heavens and controlled the Royal Legion of Angels. There were ninety in total, with God and Lucifer it was ninety-two. God and Lucifer were not only equal rulers; they were best friends and brothers who wanted to create a new species. As you might have already guessed, the species they had in mind was the human race. The Earth was created to have a place for a new species to exist outside of Heaven. Technically, it was already in existence but merely a huge lifeless rock before all of this taking place.

The biblical story about God creating the Earth in seven days is entirely false. Christians often attempt to justify this made-up story by saying the seven days is symbolic, but in reality, it was a long process of trial and error spanning across several different ages. There was no actual need or purpose for the human race, God and Lucifer were really just creating for pleasure's sake. For those who have trouble accepting humans were created out of boredom; consider the same inner drive to create that makes humans craft art. Creating life and the Earth was the art of Gods.

Not only did God and Lucifer have to figure out the ideal atmospheric conditions to support life on Earth; the landscape and other factors also needed to be perfect for their ambitions of creating a new living species to become a reality.

Once the proper living conditions on Earth was in place, the two creators began experimenting with life. Dinosaurs, Sabretooth Tigers, Woolly Mammoths and different types of animals which no longer exist today were all a part of this experimental process. Eventually, God and Lucifer decided to create human beings. They agreed the human race would be built in their image. God created the mechanics of the body and Lucifer created the mind and emotions. Lucifer modeled the mind to be the same as Angels. God was uncomfortable with this and decided to mentally suppress humans, allowing them only to use 5-10% of their brain capacity. This is the only reason humans are not able to tap into their full divine potential here on Earth. God did this to ensure humans would never be as powerful as Angels. The mind is genuinely where power is kept. As a result, humans are left ignorant and in the dark of the real divine spark within them. This ignorance is reinforced by Christianity which programs us to believe we are born flawed and must redeem ourselves. Only death releases the divine spark from its lowly prison.

God wanted humans pre-modeled to follow obediently with free will. He wanted humans to be his race of worshipping beings with no free will. Lucifer was firmly against this, and it became the source of their first disagreement; the final conflict which unfolded the chain of events that shaped reality as we know it today. Lucifer wanted humans to have free will.

In the beginning, God and Lucifer shared much love for each other. However, their relationship quickly became a huge source of conflict over the issue of free will. This was not initially included in the creation of human beings. God believed a secure life of ignorance was better suited for humans than a life of freedom and responsibility. To settle the disagreement, they decided to let things play out organically and see for themselves. A case study was started which is where we get the Garden of Eden and the story of Adam and Eve. The Tree of Knowledge represents our right to pursue an education in all forms. God created the Garden of Eden as a paradise full of comfort and security. He was confident the human couple would never give up these beautiful living conditions in exchange for knowledge, freedom, and limitless potential. Lucifer came to Eve in human form, not as a serpent, and made his offer. He explained that free will and knowledge offers limitless potential but that they would lose their paradise and security in exchange for such a gift. Eve was enticed by this offer and presented it to Adam. Even though they would ultimately have to give up their safe and secure life in paradise, what Lucifer was offering was true greatness; the opportunity to stop living life on auto-pilot like an animal and start living on their own terms.

Eventually they chose Lucifer's offer, and this infuriated God. A battle began between Lucifer and God lasting for days on end. During this time, there was also disagreements and tension unfolding amongst the Royal Legion of Angels. Many Angels were coming up with innovative ideas such as the concept of economics, love, alchemy, etc. God and the majority of Angels were very adamant about not wanting humans to have any of this. However, there were still many Angels who desired humans to use and enjoy these concepts to create a more dynamic life. During this time, it was not an even split. God still had a reasonably good handle on the legion. Nonetheless, a third were on Lucifer's side and actively supported his ideas.

Lucifer ultimately won the battle over free will. In retaliation, God decided that since free will exists, he would create Hell to punish people who would inevitably abuse it. By his logic, the only way to maintain order was through fear. This is clearly reflected in the way Christianity was designed with its ideals of complete submission to God. Obey his every word without question or be punished for eternity.

Everyone knows Hell as a place where sinners go to suffer for eternity. However, very few understand much else about it or how it is structured.

On Earth, we know it as Hell. In Heaven, Hell was called The Hive. It is called this because it has seven levels of punishment. Each descending level represents a more severe degree of eternal punishment. The Hive's layers are concentric which is why it became known as The Seven Circles of Hell. Souls sent to The Hive are condemned to one of the seven circles based on the nature of the sin committed. Six Angels were appointed to operate The Hive and administer the torture. The first is named Belial who was Lucifer's closest follower. God eventually sent off another five Angels to manage Hell—all Angels who strongly supported Lucifer. It did not take long for Lucifer to realize God was grasping for power and sending off his closest allies to weaken Lucifer's influence.

Fortunately, Lucifer was always at least one step ahead of God and had the foresight to act. He knew it was only a matter of time before he would need to battle with God once more and this required Angels to fill his legion. At the time, Angels were not created through childbirth but through a different reproduction process involving a combination of God and Lucifer's essence. Lucifer created the ability of procreation by way of childbirth. This was a loophole he came up with to repopulate his legion without the need of God to be involved.

After childbirth came into existence, Lucifer seduced Eve away from Adam and impregnated her. This is how Eve's first son Cain was born. Once God found out what Lucifer had done, he was furious, and chaos unfolded in Heaven and on Earth. To eventually put an end to this drawn-out conflict, Lucifer began negotiations with God and willingly departed voluntarily from Heaven to stop the endless drawn-out battle. One-third of the Royal Legion immediately followed him and pledged allegiance to Lucifer. The Royal Legion was officially divided and Hell would be the new home of Lucifer and all who came with him. A third of the Angelic Royal Legion immediately followed Lucifer into Hell willingly. At this point, God panicked and immediately shut the gates to Heaven, never allowing another Angel to leave again. Many of the Angels in Heaven today are there by force rather than choice, threatened with the punishment of the hive if they even consider leaving.

Hell was far from being well established at this point. The Hive, consisting of its seven circles of punishment, was all that existed. Even for those not staying in one of the circles, this was not a pleasant environment to spend eternity. Belial and the other five Angels, who had already been stationed to Hell by God, were quite literally miserable being there. Lucifer and his legion certainly had their work cut out for them.

They had just been through war, and now they would have to build a new empire on land built and fueled by the pain and misery of humanity's sinners.

Lucifer knew very well that to have a competitive chance against God and the myriads of Angels in Heaven, he would have to play a game of chess instead of checkers. By taking charge of Hell and enforcing The Hive's system of punishment established by God, Lucifer was able to maintain a somewhat peaceful and professional relationship with the Creator. Although, no longer friendly and loving brothers, they were able to cooperate enough to respect each other's territory and coexist.

While Lucifer and his legion were at work building his empire in Hell, his son Cain continued to father many children, which produced a direct line of human descendants. This was a vital part of Lucifer's plan. Lucifer wanted more than just condemned souls sent to The Hive to populate his realm. He aimed to rebuild his Legion on Earth and Hell. Over time, Lucifer expanded Hell to include the Royal Court, Intermediary Court, and Lower Court.

The Royal Court is exclusively for Lucifer, the Royal Legion, and direct descendants. Intermediary Court belongs to other Demons, many of which you might recognize as the Hindu, Buddhist, Voodoo and other deities appearing in different spiritual traditions. The Lower Court is for those who have fully committed to following Lucifer's path on Earth. They are all rewarded with sanctuary in Hell.

These courts are nothing like the rest of Hell where people are condemned to suffer. On the contrary, people who come as willing followers of Lucifer enjoy a beautiful and luxurious side of Hell rivaling Heaven. If a human decides to follow Lucifer of their own free will, they become a Demon after death. Despite the stereotypical notions of what a Demon should look like, they are actually beautiful and aesthetically perfect beings. All Demons remain around the age of 35. Humans who have been reborn as Demons have a home, can be with their existing family, or even establish a new one. This is a society not unlike capitalism on Earth with its own set of laws, economy, and productive way of life.

For several years, Hell experienced extreme growth; becoming nearly unrecognizable from the much smaller Hive it had originated from. While all this was taking place, Eve remained with Adam. She was in love with Lucifer, but God prevented the two from reuniting until much later.

Adam lived to a ripe age of 930 years old. As for Eve, she disappears from the Bible never to be heard of again.

What we do know is that Eve was forced by God to continue having a certain number of children with Adam before she would obtain her freedom and reunite with Lucifer in Hell.

By the time Eve was free, God had already succeeded in dominating the Earth's population with children of Adam and their descendants. Still, Lucifer and his son Cain's descendants still were enough in number to continue the slow and steady growth Lucifer had in mind.

Once Eve returned to Lucifer, she took on the unique role of the 7th; Archangel of Creation. Since then, she decided to be forever addressed as the 7th—no longer as Eve, her name given by God. The 7th played a vital role in starting the chain of birth which established much of the Royal Legion in Hell today. To this day, she governs the 7th Circle—the harshest level of Hell and will soon complete the fulfillment of Lucifer's ninety-two Royal Demons. At this point Demons will again walk the earth.

The 7 Levels of Hell are as follows:

1. Limbo – This is the least severe level of Hell. Atheists end up here as well as people who have committed suicide. It is ruled by the Prince Leviathan.
2. Infidelity – Reserved for committers of crimes such as adultery. Ruled by the Prince Asmodeus.
3. Vanity – People who are overly narcissistic, lack empathy, and live life concerned only with their self-interest end up here. Ruled by the Prince Belial.
4. Greed- Obsession over money, theft, or exploiting others. Ruled by Prince Mammon.
5. Wrath – Rape, Molestation, Murder, Physical Abuse. Ruled by the Prince Beelzebub.
6. Heresy – Pretending to be Lucifer, God, an Angel, Demon, or any false prophet. Ruled by the Prince Belphegor.
7. Crimes against the innocent – Gruesome acts committed against children or the innocent. Ruled by the 7th.

Throughout history, numerous attempts were made by Lucifer and his legion to take a stand against God and create a presence on Earth. The Pagan Gods of Egypt, Greece, Rome, Sumer, and Babylon, were many of the Demons found in this book presented with an entirely different name and form. Demons have historically chosen to appear in a manner best suited for different cultures. Eventually, Lucifer decided to remain quiet and wait until an ideal time to reach the masses. That time is now.

Today's modern age with the internet, social media and a more receptive general audience, has fostered the perfect conditions for Lucifer to make another stand and make his story finally known. Christianity has been nothing more than a smear campaign against Lucifer and his Demons which has lasted for centuries; a portrayal that is the complete opposite of reality. This book was written not only to give you an introduction to Demonic Magick, but also to open the minds of the masses and remind everyone there is always two sides to every story. Nothing, including this book, should ever be taken on blind faith alone. Try the Magick, study the numerous instances of the Bible revealing the cruel nature of God (they are not difficult to find) and decide for yourself what truly makes sense and sounds like the truth.

DEMONIC FAMILY TREE

Demons have been cataloged by man for well over two thousand years. As a result, anyone wishing to study Demonology will find several versions of Demonic hierarchies with different systems of classification to choose from. We can thank Johan Weyer for putting together the most complex classification ever to exist. Over seven thousand Demons serving under 72 Princes of Hell! Johan was a well-known demonologist, and although the effort he put into this contribution is truly remarkable, it is unfortunately nowhere near accurate. It should be noted that this is fact—but not mentioned as a knock to Johan. Despite the numerous attempts throughout history to create an accurate portrayal of Hell’s hierarchy, none of them really come close to being an accurate representation.

For all the differences in order, authority, abilities, and physical descriptions to be found amongst the different published works; one thing that continues to this today is referring to Demons by titles such as King, Duke, Earl, etc. even though these are not actual positions in Hell.

Fortunately, reality is far less complicated than what Weyer and other Demonologists have been teaching. There are only Seven Princes of Hell—not 72.

Lucifer is at the very top of the hierarchy and holds authority over all. He is the Emperor of Hell. The remaining Demons fall in one of three tiers based on age which represents the Royal Court. Tier one is the seven Princes. Directly below them, you have the original fallen Angels found in tier two. Tier three belongs to their offspring.

With regards to titles in the Royal Court you have the Princes and Princess—that is all. As mentioned earlier, Kings, Dukes, Earls don’t exist in Hell. This was merely put in place by Demonologists trying to categorize the Demons in an organized manner the general public could comprehend during the current time period. In reality, these titles really create nothing but confusion especially for anyone trying to understand this today.

To understand the hierarchy, all you need to know is that Lucifer ranks above all, and everyone else falls into a tiered system of rank based on age.

The Seven Princes each have their own domain which they are attributed to.

Belial - Power

Leviathan - Protection

Mammon - Wealth

Beelzebub - Wrath

Asmodeus - Lust

Belphegor - Alchemy

The 7th - Creation

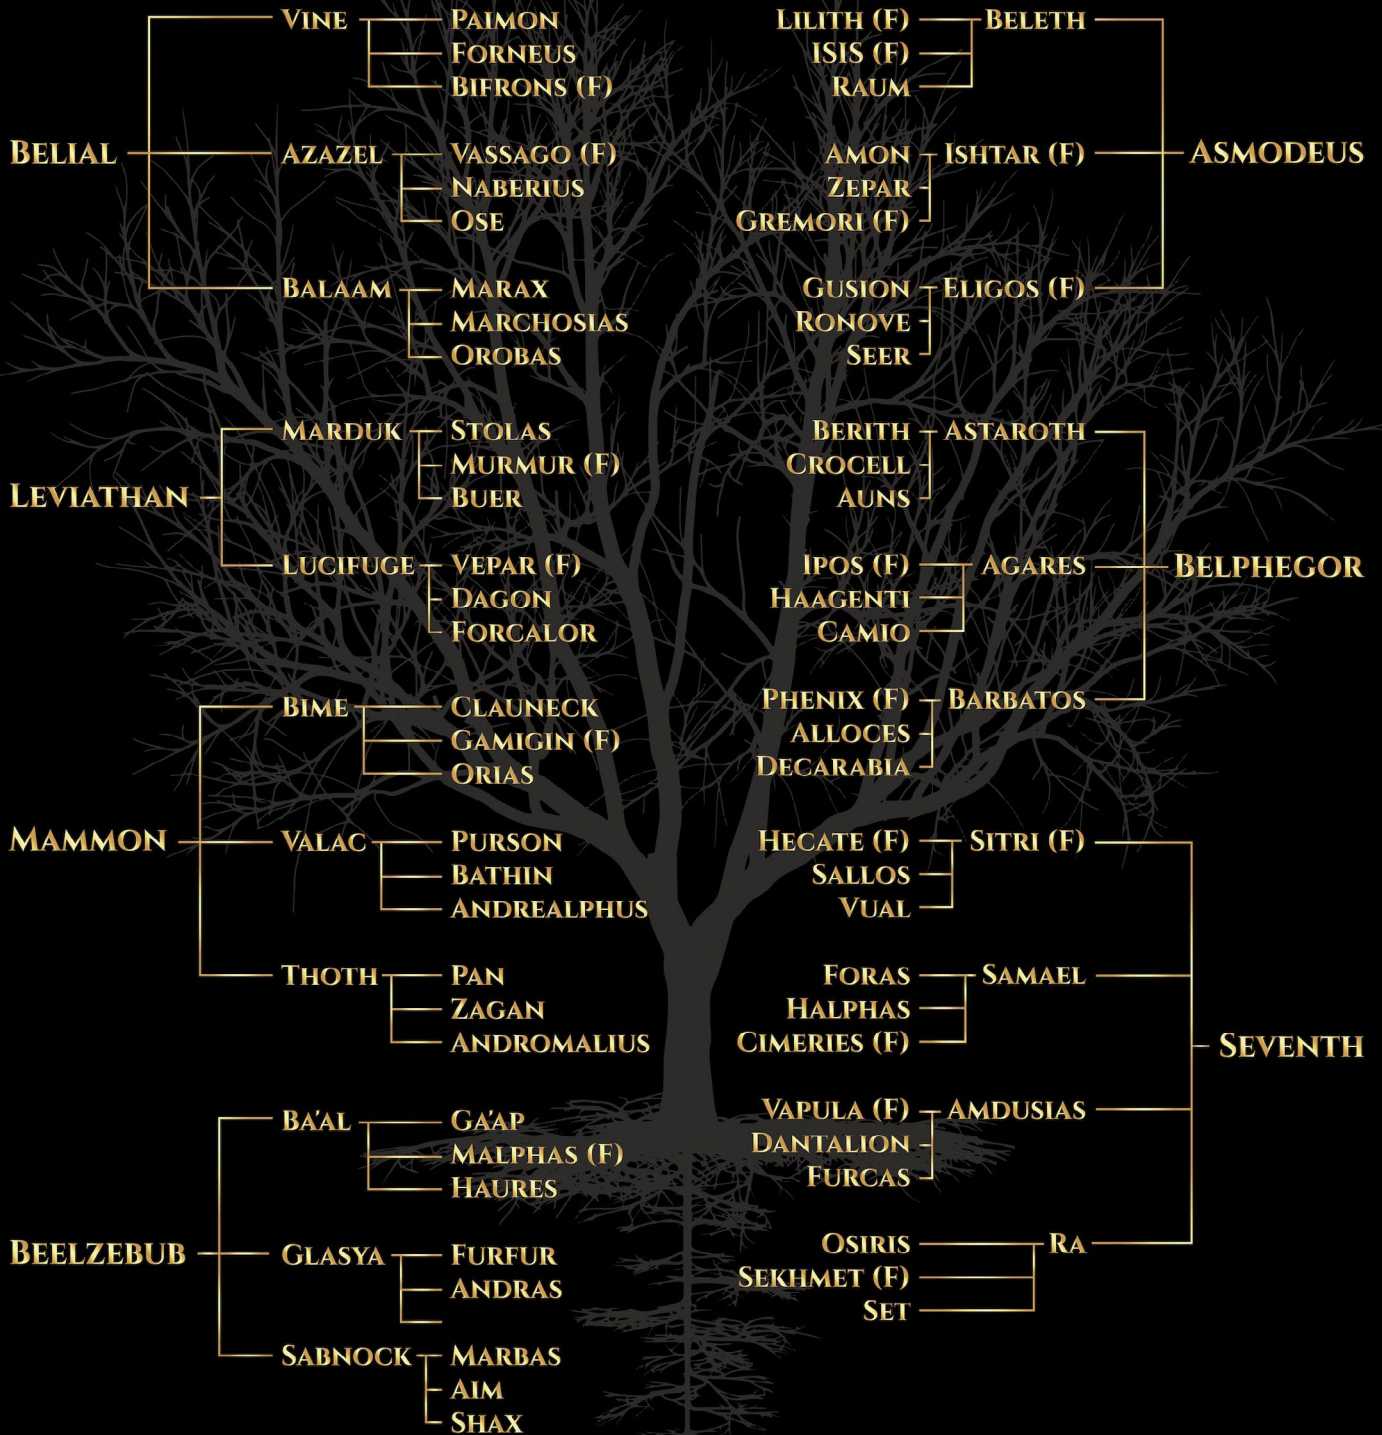

To understand the hierarchy in its entirety a picture is truly worth a thousand words. On the next page, you will find a chart with each Demon placed in their proper tier. It is essentially a family tree. Lucifer is at the top, the Seven Princes below who are his direct offspring, their children, and so on.

CHAPTER 3

WHY DO DEMONS WANT TO WORK WITH US?

Have you ever wondered why Demons want to work with us? During an interaction with another being, there is an exchange of energy. This is something that even humans crave, but for Demons, it is of far more value. A significant difference between humans and Demons is how energy is generated. Humans generate their own energy while Demons obtain much of theirs as a result of carrying out their work aiding us with our Magickal operations. They also take pleasure in the offerings they receive in exchange. Beyond that, Demons have always taken a great interest in human beings and their affairs. They enjoy human interaction and desire friendship. Working with humans through Magick is a perfect way to break the ice and get acquainted with one another. When you contact a Demon with your petition, he or she is able to feel your energy and get a good sense of your nature.

Demons are immortal beings who have been around for eons. An amount of time incomprehensible to the human mind. Naturally, after having the same companions for an eternity, you'd also have a desire to branch out and interact with new people from time to time.

For this reason, loyalty, the quality, and depth of your relationship with the Demons are more critical to success in Magick than your years of practice, offerings or natural talent. We honor the Demons with respect, praise and taking a genuine interest in them as conscious beings with their own individual characteristics and interests. This attentiveness goes beyond their Magickal abilities.

Most people desire to work with Demons in order to change reality in their favor through Magick. However, it is through this relationship and interaction we are able to realize our own true nature as imperfect beings full of infinite potential— only constrained by this physical plane of existence.

This would be a perfect time to end this chapter if it were not for the topic of Angels. Many people ask “why work with Demons instead of Angels?”. To this, we would respond with “why work with Angels instead of Demons?” Alas, as much as we would like to ignore this pre-conceived notion that Angels are good and safe “white’ Magick and Demons are evil and dangerous “dark” Magick; this must be addressed.

Firstly, if you have performed Angelic Magick in the past and are reading this book, it is more than likely because the results achieved with Angels left much to be desired or came up short in some way. The answer to this conundrum is this; whenever you petition an Angel, your request is subjected to an approval process used to determine whether or not this request is appropriately aligned with the Christian view of what is best for your spiritual development. As you can imagine, a significant amount of petitions (and prayers) that do not meet these requirements are rejected by Angels.

The truth is Angelic Magick does not work for everyone. Still, many people new to Magick make the mistake of approaching Angelic work first. Those who do not find success with Angels often end up becoming discouraged with Magick entirely. What a shame! No doubt, many have probably written off Magick as entirely fake because of their lack of results with Angelic Magick.

Those who endure and push through their Angelic Magick failures, usually start working with Demons and are pleasantly surprised by how quick and powerful Demonic Magick can be. You’ll find that Demons are far more accommodating and enthusiastic about working with people from all different backgrounds and spiritual traditions. After all, they have appeared in many unique forms throughout history, including the Pagan Gods of Rome, Greece, India, and Egypt. Although some practitioners of Angelic Magick may claim otherwise, if you did not grow up around the Judeo-Christian tradition and are not able to identify with that religious paradigm, you will be at a disadvantage when trying to build a connection with Angels. While many people work with both Angels and Demons, it is rare to find a practitioner who has achieved a deep connection with both sides. You can reach your fullest potential by choosing and staying committed to one path. Many people find they resonate with either Light Magick or Dark Magick. Those who connect with Dark Magick will naturally feel a calling to work with Demons over Angels.

Choosing a path is not a matter of good versus evil, but more about your unique alignment. Angels can cause as much mayhem and destruction as Demons can, and Demons can initiate love, protection, and enlightenment in spite of the rumors that they are incapable of doing so.

If you happen to be unfortunate enough to have an Angel initiate contact with you, you might be left puzzled trying to understand how they ever managed to acquire the reputation as divine beings of the highest moral standards and spiritual purity. God and his legion of Angels have killed thousands of innocent people throughout history.

CHAPTER 4

PATRON DEMONS

We've all heard of Guardian Angels but did you know you also have a Guardian Demon? Yes, that's right, although in our tradition we prefer the term "Patron Demon," this is essentially the equivalent of a Guardian Angel on the left-hand side. Our Patron Demons are with us all of our lives; however, they respect your free will and will not initiate contact until you decide to seek them out yourself. Those who choose to seek out their Patron Demon, get the full benefits of their protection and guidance.

Call it a Patron or Guardian, but all people have one on both the angelic side and demonic side. It is up to you to choose whom you will develop a close relationship to. You will not gain anywhere near as close of a relationship with either Patron if you do not choose a side. When it comes to Angels and Demons, the worst place to be is honestly in the middle. This statement never fails to ruffle some feathers. Naturally, people want to benefit from both Angels and Demons. Unfortunately, while you technically can dabble with both sides of Magick, it's only until you've committed fully to the demonic side that your Patron will actively begin to work with you in a close capacity. What it comes down to is showing loyalty and commitment.

You might have a friend that gets along with your worst enemy. While you might not necessarily harbor any resentment towards him/her, you are far less likely to give this friend one hundred percent of your trust. The more time you've fostered a relationship with your demon, put in the time to develop trust, and proven you are fully invested and a true ally of Lucifer and his legion, the more you will blossom on this spiritual path. The most profound secrets of Demonic Magick are reserved for those who are truly loyal and identify with Lucifer's cause, which is ours fully as well.

Once you've found your Patron Demon and begin communicating with him, don't be surprised to learn about the roles he may have played during critical moments in your life. It's always astounding to learn your Patron has been there all along watching and waiting for the moment you would be ready to connect. All Patron Demons have a name, and in this chapter, you'll learn The Order's two ways for finding and identifying your Demon.

Why would I want a Patron?

A Patron will act as your guide and confidant. They will steer you in the right direction when you've lost your way and even during times when you do not see danger ahead. It's important to understand they will not be a personal genie or shield you from every misfortune, (because this would not allow you to grow from the experience.) They will however, always work in your best interest, and especially in times when you are your worst enemy.

Will a Patron give me whatever I want?

As stated above, no. While as a general rule, Demons will respect your free will and are not interested in micromanaging your life, things are entirely different in regards to your Patron. Your Patron is far more invested in your physical and spiritual well-being and looks after you like family. Anyone who has practiced Magick for a considerable amount of time has ended up not being the best for us in the long run or even harmful. Your Patron will not grant a petition for something they do not believe is in your best interest. They may also cancel a curse you put out in haste or even allow us to go through minor hardships that will help you grow.

While nobody enjoys being denied what they initially wanted, remember that it is an honor and a blessing to have a Demon that genuinely cares about you like family. Also, as a real practitioner, your focus should always be on growth as a person and in Magick. Growth cannot occur if we think we have all the answers. What better way to grow than to have someone who sees your past and future guiding you?

We will show two ways that the initiates of The Order are instructed to use to find their Patron Demon. The first is called the Hand Method, and the second is called the Tunnel Method. Some may use a pendulum to find their Patron, and while pendulums more often than not are correct, we don't advise them in the Patron discovery process.

Before starting we recommend preparing yourself:

- Cleanse yourself and cleanse your space. Demons do not like messes, so pick up around the room you are wishing to contact them in

- Meditate. Demons also do not like crazy. If you are in a hysterical or highly emotional state of mind then be sure to meditate to calm yourself
- Do the Seal of the 7th. This is a protection spell located in the rituals chapter for banishing any unwanted spirits or energies so that the Demons can easily come through
- Begin with the Patron ritual of your choosing

FIND YOUR PATRON - HAND METHOD

Materials

Names and Sigils of all 90 Demons

Instructions

- In a dark, candlelit room, sit down with your book and turn to the demonic sigil section
- Without looking at the sigil and the name of the Demon it belongs to, hover your hand slightly above sigil
- Take a few moments to notice if you sense any pull on your hand towards the sigil
- Turn the page and repeat this process until you've gone through all 90 Demons in this book
- Make a note of any Demons you feel a particular pull towards

After completing this process, you should have noticed a significant pull to at least one Demon. If you have felt a pull towards more than one, put your hand over each sigil with your eyes closed and feel which one gives you a stronger pull.

If you are unable to come up with a definite answer doing this, The Tunnel Ritual will give you your Patron.

When you hear a name after performing The Tunnel Ritual, it is vital to trust your instincts. If you are unsure, your Demon will send you hints to guide you. If you receive no hints, do the Light Bearer's ritual located in the rituals chapter and begin again.

After you find your Patron, remember that you cannot just choose another. Your Patron is assigned to you at birth and will forever be there to protect and guard you. There isn't a single thing your Patron Demon cannot protect you from. The benefits you receive from this relationship will depend on what you are willing to put into it.

Remember, that although Patrons are powerful, they are under no obligation to grant you anything and you are still very much responsible for your own actions. Humans have free will and can still rise and fall by the power of their decisions. Never lose sight of your moral compass. Your Patron will guide you, and many times protect you. However, it will be up to you to take their advice and guidance.

FIND YOUR PATRON - TUNNEL METHOD

Read each one of the 90 Demons names aloud. In a dark candle lit room lay down and close your eyes. The room should be absolutely silent with very little light except for the flame of no more than a few candles.

Take 10 deep breaths and relax your mind. Now is the time to let go of any nagging thoughts and get into a meditative state.

When you are ready, begin to visualize as instructed below. This process should take at least 5 minutes at the minimum in order to make the required connection.

- You are in complete darkness walking through a tunnel with a Demon wearing a black hooded cloak, hand in hand. It is too dark to identify who this Demon is
- As you look out into the distance you notice it is snowing outside at the end of the tunnel
- The air is crisp and the cold icy breeze brings chills to your face as you continue to walk forward
- Feel the warmth of your hands joined. The slight moisture of sweat between your palms
- Feel your icy breath. You have been walking for some time now and are breathing a bit harder due to a mix of excitement and slight fatigue
- You've now reached the end of the tunnel. You hear the crunch of snow beneath your feet
- Look up at the Demon's face
- Ask for its name
- You will have your answer

Think of it as a doctor/specialist situation. Glasya would be a doctor that is very capable in diagnosing and treating all ailments. But in a complicated event he may refer you to a specialist. Perhaps Sitri for love and attraction. You can work with any demons. You just have a faster and more solid connection with your patron. They already know you. Sometimes in a time sensitive situation a solid connection with someone who can moderately help you is better than a brand new connection with a specialist. — Lucifer

OFFERINGS AND ALTARS

In the chapter ‘Evocation Consecration Rite’ we discuss giving your Demon of choice an offering. This offering is an item you are freely giving your Demon before the ritual begins. Some writers suggest using the practice of only rewarding a Demon with an offering when they have completed a petition or request. This is by all accounts incredibly rude. Demons can typically access anything they so desire. They do not need to perform tricks to earn candy or whatever your offering may be. The offering is a gesture of goodwill and trust that you believe that the Demon will assist you or will arrive. To some, the idea of offerings is foreign, but offerings have been given and expected since the days of Abel and Cain.

A comprehensive list of the offerings each Demon usually enjoys is located in the ‘The Royal Legion’ portion of the book. The offerings listed are a rough idea of the things they are known to have enjoyed in the past. You are not limited to these items. You just have the assurance that they work. Offerings tend to be a trial and error sort of thing.

Disposal

Some ask about what to do with the offerings after putting them out and how long to wait before putting an offering away. If this is a perishable item it is recommended that you give the Demon a good 6–12 hours to enjoy their offering. If this is not possible, leave it out for as long as you can, then throw it away in the trash or bury it. For all offerings that need to go you may throw them away, bury them, or burn them.

Don'ts

Never eat a Demon's offering. This sacrifice is for them and this practice dates back to a time where food was scarce, and is considered honorable to Demons that anyone would give up their food. Do not feel sad if your offering has not been eaten. Demons are still able to fully enjoy what you gave them. Many times the offering will be consumed, but sometimes it may not or it may be moved around. This does not matter. The sacrifice was given and appreciated.

When it comes to a monetary sacrifice absolutely do not donate it or spend it on good will gestures. This again takes away the sacrifice to the Demons and will bestow your sacrifice upon someone else therefore voiding your offering to the Demons. This is like giving a gift, then taking it away and giving it to someone else.

Don't double gift offerings. Meaning, do not use the same offering you gave to one Demon and gift it to another in a following ritual. This again is rude and now stealing from the Demon since their offering is considered a gift.

Don't use offerings you gave to Demons for yourself. This is considered even more rude. This is like handing someone a present and then using it right in front of them.

Sexual Offerings

In the 'The Royal Legion' section, sex or sexual offerings is listed for nearly every Demon. This is probably a first for many people to read. These next statements will draw in naysayers and trolls far and wide but again, we are not interested in entertaining anyone's fragile sensibilities. We are only concerned with relaying the facts regarding Demonic Magick. The fact is, yes you absolutely can have sex with a Demon. This is one of the legions' most favorite offerings. It gives them a chance to be as close as possible to your lifesource (your soul.) Demons are real physical beings that have DNA and mate with humans just as Angels did in the past.

Demons can also have children. This is exceptionally rare and is only done with descendants of Cain, but that is another story for another book.

To do this, you simply make sure your body is clean and presentable. You may make it known in the beginning of your ritual and at meeting that you offer yourself sexually to your Demon. Your Demon is bound to only ever engage in consensual sex with a human and will not ever in any circumstance rape or force sexual acts with a human. Once a relationship is established, they will appreciate this as an occasional offering.

Another thing you may do to achieve similar results if you are not able to engage in intercourse with a Demon is use sexual fluids as a part of your offering. You may consider masturbating and then ejaculating on or wiping vaginal fluids on the sigil before beginning igniting it. You can also do this to your pendant if you have one. Using sex or sexual fluids gives Demons a thrill that is only second to blood. This adds an extra step up to your spellwork and gives you an intensely close relationship with your Demon.

Note: Again however, sex is not necessary as an offering to achieve success, and you should not feel pressured to partake in such activities if it is out of your comfort zone.

Altars

Many may only give offerings during rituals and that is perfectly fine. Some however go completely out of their way and create altar spaces for their Demons out of love and appreciation. In this space, people will leave out offerings out of love rather than in exchange for answering a petition. An altar space is typically comprised of a Demon's sigil, various offerings, candles, etc.

Altar spaces allow one to always have a special place for their Demon to make them feel as comfortable as possible. This is a smart idea since Demons will prefer to show up in full evocation in a place where they feel comfortable. As an added note, Demons will not typically come in full physical evocation where there are also Angelic entities flowing through. This isn't due to fear, it is just about not wanting to be around someone they don't like. If you want your space to be considered Demon friendly, an altar would be an excellent addition. There are no size requirements when it comes to altars. An altar could even be in a sock drawer or in a box under your bed if you have a need for privacy. Of course you don't even need an altar at all to get results, but nevertheless it is still act that only further intensifies and solidifies your relationship with the legion and Lucifer.

CHAPTER 6

THE DEVIL MADE ME DO IT

Are you willing to abandon any and all preconceived notions of what a Luciferian or a Satanist is? Nearly all of Hollywood depictions and mentions in the news relate Luciferianism and anything to do with Lucifer as something evil or dangerous. Anytime anything Satanic is mentioned in mainstream media, it typically involves murder, torture, human sacrifice, child endangerment or other equally sinister acts. However, most true Luciferians usually blend into society and more often than not are some of the most accepting, intelligent, peaceful, and giving people you will ever meet. True Luciferians, and especially those who deal in Demonic Magick know what it means to be seen as an outcast and therefore are typically non-judgmental. Followers of Demonic Magick are always having to climb an uphill battle to get away from the social stigma of this practice.

Why is this the case? The simple answer is deception. The more complicated answer is the natural human desire to have a villain that can take the blame for their harmful actions. Throughout history, people have cowardly relied on placing blame on unseen evil forces rather than taking responsibility for their own selfish interests and actions. The current situation regarding the Catholic church and pedophilia, yet, blaming “the devil” for the disgusting acts committed by its clergy is current proof man is a bigger monster than any Demon. “God” or at least what he represents in the Bible is the biggest monster of them all.

This book will open your mind to a new way of thinking and unlock your ability to change your life in the grandest of ways.

Every single one of the rituals contained in this book are extremely potent and unlike anything that has been published in the history of Magick. Trying to compare this revolutionary Magick to the old classic grimoires of the past, or the amateurish and watered down “hit or miss” approaches to Magick published by modern occult authors will only leave you in a state of confusion.

This next statement might be controversial, but it needs to be said. The blind has been leading the blind when it comes to the Magick being published and sold to the public. Far too many occult authors are self-taught and learned their Magick from books written by other self-taught occult authors. By definition, occult literally means knowledge of the hidden. For this reason, books on Magick available to purchase for the general public will always contain “blinds” or missing pieces of information. Naturally, you may have read this and had your attention drawn to the fact that this too is a published book on Magick available to anyone.

Although, it’s true this is a book about Magick, it has come into existence for an entirely different reason than any other book published in history. Introduction to Demonic Magick has been released because it is Lucifer’s will that The Order bring Luciferians out of the restricted domain of the occult and into the mainstream. Luciferianism is an ethical belief system with the highest morality. Is there any shame in valuing independence, human progression, and liberation? Luciferians believe in not relying on traditional dogma to determine what is the truth. People should be able to distinguish between right and wrong, while choosing what is right not out of fear, but because of integrity and honor.

*Note: Often sociopaths or mentally ill people will find themselves in prison for crimes committed that they claim the devil made them do, however at no time EVER will a Demon from the Royal Legion advise you to hurt yourself or anyone else. Often, the devil receives the blame for these heinous acts when the responsibility lies solely with the sociopathic or mentally ill person.

CHAPTER 7

BLOOD MAGICK

The use of blood in ritual is a topic of controversy. Yes, the concept might come across as taboo for someone who does not believe in Magick. However, if you consider yourself a serious practitioner you should ask yourself why using blood is an issue to you. Rest assured, true Blood Magick does not involve torture or animal sacrifice—or even human sacrifice. As far as The Order is concerned, the only blood you are allowed to use as leverage in Magick is your own. However, menstrual blood is not to be used as an offering.

Now you may find cultures where menstrual blood is an acceptable or even desirable gift to spirits and deities, but that is not something The Order condones when practicing Blood Magick. The goal of the practitioner is to develop a deep and close demonic relationship. This closeness is one of the primary keys that sets our Magickal practice apart from other traditions and in a league of its own when it comes to consistent success. What we have found is that Demons prefer the purest form of blood, of which will be your own source, fresh out of the circulatory system via self-laceration. Menstrual blood is a mixture of blood, glandular and stromal tissue, and other waste. It is a dead substance no longer connected to its life force. With that in mind, it's easy to understand why certain deities would even take offense to such an offering. Fresh blood, however, is something Demons crave. Placing blood on their sigil or pendants are one of the highest offerings you can give them.

Even Christ understood the power of blood. Once you begin looking deeper into religious practices, you'll find that the ceremonial use of blood is not limited to the occult and is far more mainstream than people would like to acknowledge. It is a fact that one-third of the world's population identifies with the Christian faith. The Catholic mass and most Christian denominations perform a ritual involving what is called the Holy Communion. A symbolic representation of consuming the body and blood of Christ. In spite of that, society does not blink twice at the thought of taking part in a ritual that is suggestively cannibalistic when performed by a man with a cross and bible. However, if a Luciferian were the creator of such a ceremony, it would likely be seen as a disgusting barbarous practice.

We've all allowed our blood to be taken at some point as part of a medical check-up when visiting the doctor without giving it much thought. Why is it that when it comes to Magick, many go out of their way to avoid or look for alternatives to spilling blood to obtain something vital to them? Unfortunately, because Magick has become far more accessible in the form of content available for purchase instead of having to be earned through initiation or by meeting other prerequisites, today's practitioners have begun opting for rituals requiring the least amount of effort. Is blood always absolutely necessary to obtain a Magickal result? Absolutely not. If you have a Patron Demon, he or she will likely help you without there being any need for even a single drop of your blood. There are also situations where blood might be inappropriate.

With that said, here is something to keep in mind. Blood is the ink of life which allows you to write your own reality. As a general rule, when you are willing to put your own blood on the table, you are far more likely to get what you want with Magick. When using your blood in Magick, you are sealing your petition with your own Sacred Elixir. Blood is where much of your power and energy is stored. Your blood is the personal signature of your soul. The most ancient cultures up through now revered blood and understood its significance; the association between life and death. The very act of obtaining blood usually involves pain of some degree. The pain you are willing to subject yourself to, to give to a Demon is an offering in and of itself.

Furthermore, whether you realize it or not, the fact that you are willing to injure yourself to obtain what you desire is an act of strengthening your will and aiming it towards the intended result to draw it towards you. How is this possible? The explanation is alchemical in nature.

Assuming the condition of your health does not include a severe iron deficiency, you actually have enough iron in your blood to forge a nail. Therefore, your blood, the Sacred Elixir, is magnetic. As such, based on the principles of magnetism, you are now bringing yourself as part of the equation and severely increasing the power of your Magick

Please remember these important guidelines when deciding to give blood as an offering:

- Only a few drops are needed so don't make big cuts or injure yourself in the process. More blood will not make a difference
- Make sure the tool to make the laceration is sterile

- Do not lacerate deeper than the outer layers of skin
- Only use your own blood. Never injure another human nor animal for your offerings
- Do not ever drink blood or let anyone else drink your blood. This can greatly endanger you, and/or give someone else the power of your life force. (Dangerous idea)
- Clean and bandage wound. A pinprick is acceptable as well
- Do not use menstrual blood

For those who are most familiar with classical grimoires requiring a lot of preparation and items, you might be surprised how simple these rituals are in comparison. It is crucial you follow the rituals as instructed and resist any temptation to modify or add anything to it. We have decided to take our rituals down to their core so that the practitioner can get results regardless of materials, location, moon cycles, or anything else we consider arbitrary. To do Demonic Magick successfully, faith, a powerful will, and confidence in the Demon's abilities are required. There are plenty of tools and tricks to take your Magick further and enhance your rituals which we will be sharing, but without the proper focus and intent, all the tools on earth wouldn't make a difference.

If after reading this chapter you still are not comfortable with the idea of using your blood as a tool and offering in your Magickal practice, you may continue to work without it. Just know this is a potent Magickal tool and a highly regarded offering to Demons. A drop of blood which can be taken with very minimal pain with either a diabetic lancet or small razor cut will push your Magickal results to a new and much deeper level. It will also bring you to new heights in your relationship with the Demonic realm.

*I break down my most favored to strip them of their ego

You may feel emotional and unstable, but this is so you can dig deep and find yourself at your core and create the life you always wanted.
I put you at peace, then the work begins.
But make no mistake I am here guiding you and believing in you.

CHAPTER 8

DARK NIGHT OF THE SOUL

Dark Magick is notorious for yielding quick and powerful results. This much is true, however if you decide to fully embrace the path of a Luciferian, don't be surprised if a year from now you hardly recognize your world as it once was. However, if you want to use Dark Magick to significantly alter your life, then brace yourself for a potentially bumpy ride.

Demons are not evil, but if you are not mentally prepared for what lies ahead, you might mistake them to be. Most authors of Demonic Magick would prefer this not be said, but there are some growing pains along the way. Your resilience and inner strength will be tested in many different ways to trigger growth. If you are going through difficult times and your future seems hopeless, remember that we often hit our lowest point right before reaching the most significant breakthroughs in life. Many occultists will be familiar with or have at least heard about the "Dark Night of the Soul." This is the period of desolation every Magickal practitioner must suffer before spiritual ascension can take place. Although it is referred to as a single "dark night" the period of duration is typically longer. It can be days to many months, every situation is unique to how much spiritual growth you need.

Note: It is highly unlikely that a Demon will appear in a full physical evocation until you have truly ascended. This has nothing to do with the results of a ritual, and only has to do with their visual physical presence. You do not need to see a Demon for a ritual to be successful!

*Out of suffering have emerged the strongest Souls;
the most massive characters are seared with scars.* — Khalil Gibran

You may be put through a series of trials and tribulations taking you near your breaking point. This can take a toll on you mentally, physically and emotionally. If you are unaware of what is taking place, you may allow yourself to be mistakenly diagnosed with major depression.

However, while depression is confined to something psychological, biological, or physiological, the Dark Night is a precursor leading up to a complete transformation.

The struggle during the Dark Night goes deeper and forces you to come to terms with something more philosophical in nature.

During this time, you may reflect on the purpose of your existence, or feel overwhelmed with a strange longing for something you may not be able to identify. A deep sense of sadness and feeling of unworthiness may overcome you, while a feeling of being lost or “condemned” to suffering will gradually wear you down. This is similar to what is known in the bible as the “Refiner’s Fire.”

You may feel your will weakening, making it difficult for you to act and rise above the sea of sorrow your soul is drowning in. But rise you must! Nobody will do it for you. You’ve been thrown into the water to see if you will sink or swim. Lucifer will give you a lifeline, but it is up to you to grab it and pull yourself up to the surface!

It’s not that Lucifer or any Demon takes pleasure in seeing you struggle through this process. In fact, it is quite the opposite. Tough love is really the hardest love to give. There are times however, when it is needed. If you are a parent, it will be much easier for you to relate to this. Every parent can likely recall at least one critical moment in their child’s development where we had to watch our child struggle to overcome something necessary for their growth and development.

No parent enjoys watching their child fall off their bike and the pain that follows. Nevertheless, most parents force their child off of training wheels at some point for their own good. The only way to ride a bike on two wheels is to go through the painful trial and error required to learn how to balance. Lucifer is that parent forcing you to break out of your comfort zone in order to be equipped with the tools necessary to truly grow and fully live. The painful process to live life without training wheels is a rite of passage most children go through and the Dark Night is no different for the Luciferian practitioner.

You must learn to embrace the darkness and become comfortable with being uncomfortable. There is no substitute for suffering. This is reflected well in Polish psychologist Kazimierz Dabrowski’s theory of positive disintegration. Essentially, Dabrowski considered tension and anxiety as necessary for spiritual and psychological maturing. The suffering which must be endured during this time can be thought of as friction applied to polish the mirror reflecting your soul. Eventually, after enough friction that mirror will be polished enough for you to glimpse your soul's true nature and strength. Only then will the process be completed.

You will have shed everything that has currently been weighing you down or holding you back, allowing for a supreme version of yourself to emerge. From this point on, you will have what is needed internally to obtain what it is you truly desire.

If something is missing in your life even after you've put in your best effort to obtain it, this is because you currently do not have the required capacity to handle it. To achieve greatness, growth must occur. This is a fundamental law of nature which can be found everywhere.

The greater the contrast, the greater the potential.

Great energy only comes from a correspondingly great tension between opposites. — C. G. Jung

If a tree is not exposed to the wind blowing against it, it will not develop the structural strength and deep roots required to remain upright as it reaches its height potential. The wind causes stress upon the tree and makes it stronger. As mentioned earlier, It is not that Demons enjoy watching us struggle through this process, there is just no alternative but to go through this rite of passage.

A butterfly must endure a period of struggle to strengthen its wings before breaking free from the cocoon. If you were watching the struggle taking place and sympathetically decided to free the butterfly yourself, you would rob it of its opportunity to develop the ability to fly. The tempering stage inside the cocoon is required for the butterfly's wings to become strong enough to begin flying.

The Dark Night is your cocoon—the old confining structures you must break free from. The suffering you must endure is the wind which forces you to dig deep and develop the roots and structural strength necessary to rise to greatness.

CHAPTER 9

RITUAL METHODS

At the beginning of this book, it was mentioned that you should disregard everything you have learned about Demons and Magick in the past. The reason for this is simple, the rituals you will learn here are unlike most anything that has been published in the history of Magick. Trying to compare it to classic grimoires of the past, or works from modern occult authors, will only leave you in a state of confusion. If you are reading this book, it is most likely because you either are entirely new to Magick, or the methods you have worked with in the past have not brought you satisfactory results. Approach this work with a fresh open mind and do not try to modify the rituals contained herein. Perform everything precisely as instructed, and you should be pleased with the results. Some may worry that our practices may seem too simple and not take our rituals to be legitimate. However, The Order knows very well what brings Demons forward and what they like and dislike.

When working with Demons, there are a few different approaches to be used; evocation, invocation, and conjuration. We will be covering the first and the last in detail, but Invocation will not be included in this chapter. The reason for this is because invocation is not recommended for novice practitioners. When performing an invocation, you are essentially allowing the Demon inside of your body. Yes, this is quite like possession—except it is by invitation rather than by force.

Let's begin with evocation. Within the context of this book, evocation is the act of calling forth a Demon. Technically, evocation can be performed with Angels as well, but we will be dealing strictly with Demons here. It should be noted that in a full evocation, the Demon appears before you in physical form, but this is not required nor necessary for a successful ritual. You may sense the presence of the Demon without it appearing before you. This can manifest in the form of distinctive sounds, thoughts forced into your mind, scents in the air, or a change in atmosphere. In reality, this is the most common form of evocation achieved for most practitioners and should not be seen as an unsuccessful attempt. Even if you feel or experience nothing at all understand that the sigils are so powerful, that as long as you have correctly performed the ritual, they will hear you. Many times however, people perform evocations, and are extremely surprised when a full evocation does occur. It is best to go into every evocation fully prepared for the Demon to appear before you, while keeping in mind that if the Demon does not manifest in a visual form, not to be discouraged or disappointed.

Full evocations are incredibly exciting to witness, but ultimately, we perform Magick for results, not appearances. The results from your Magick will be the same regardless. Begin your ritual confident that you will achieve a connection and be heard. The majority of the classic grimoires perform evocation as sort of a “stand-off” between the magician and the Demon. To put it in a simple manner, the magician stands inside what is considered to be a circle of protection, and the Demon is ordered to appear using “brute force” tactics. This involves Angelic restraints and commanding the Demon in the name of God. This old-school mentality originated from ceremonial magicians with a Christian upbringing. These occultists believed Demons were inferior beings and attempted to subjugate and command these ancient entities. This was a colossal mistake which has led to fatal consequences for many who followed this approach. We live in a modern society where all sentient beings are to be respected. As with all things in life, when working with entities, you must apply humility, respect and logic.

To better grasp what you are dealing with in Demonic Magick, it would be wise to have a firm understanding of what a Demon actually is. When you contact a Demon, you are not merely dealing with a spirit. You are approaching a species capable of physical manifestation on this physical plane, in addition to others we are not able to reach as human beings. They possess an elevated level of consciousness and are able to perform supernatural feats.

The traditional grimoire approach offends them. This is why so many people attempting demonic work in this manner report incidences of their petitions backfiring or negative chain of events. Let’s think about this logically. You are dealing with divine beings who have existed for thousands of years. Many of them were known as Pagan Gods in ancient times and were worshipped before Christianity destroyed these religions. The smartest approach is to be respectful, not hostile and demanding towards the Demon. You are trying to get their attention because you want something.

When dealing with people in your daily life, yelling barbarous names and commanding them to do things will never yield a positive reaction. If there is something you want, you’d have the best chance of getting it by approaching the person you need assistance from in a friendly manner. Success with Demonic Magick happens when you clearly communicate what you want respectfully, make an offering which provides the Demon with an incentive, and show appreciation for the effort involved to give you what you would like.

Remember, Demons are not aspects of your psyche, patterns of energy, monstrous slaves to be ordered, or any other misunderstood concept you may have come across. Demons are conscious beings with feelings, egos, and personalities and will retaliate if approached offensively! With that said, there is no need to have anxiety over it. If you are someone able to generally get along with others, you'll be able to get along with Demons. Eventually, when they do appear before you, you'll be quite surprised at how human-like their characteristics really are. Just like humans, they want to be treated in a respectful manner and enjoy being rewarded for the things they do.

You may have learned in other works that it is imperative to use Angels in a demonic evocation. You may have also learned to only give offerings after a petition has been fulfilled. This by all accounts is considered extremely rude amongst Demons. It shows a lack of faith in their abilities, a lack of trust in their presence and an ignorant attitude of superiority. If you feel like you need an Angel for an evocation then go to church.

Conjuration is another method for Demonic Magick that is not only effective but extremely convenient. While conjuration can be used as a general term for casting spells, it more specifically deals with the use of talismans or pendants. Compared to evocation, conjuration is less time-consuming and can be performed anywhere—even while on-the-go. Often the times people need to use Magick the most is while being away from home. The Order has been providing demonic pendants available for purchase online. While pendants are common amongst occultists, our pendants were not designed to be fashion accessories. Every pendant comes with a charging spell that can only be used on pendants provided by The Order. Once activated with the spell, you are no longer in possession of merely a piece of metal with an engraving. You will have turned your demonic pendant into a portal for direct contact. This is why these pendants were designed as necklaces so that they can be worn and used on-the-go.

DEMONIC SIGILS

Sigil is a term you will become very familiar with if you haven't already. It is one of the critical tools in Demonic Magick. This brief chapter was written to provide a proper understanding of sigils, what they are, and their use in Demonic Magick. The Latin word for sigil is "sigillum" meaning "seal." The sigils that we use in this book quite literally represent a portal to Hell.

Each Demon listed in this book has a personal sigil that is unique to them. During the ritual, the sigil is the device of communication between the operator and the Demon. The design of a Demon's sigil contains symbolism of specific powers, qualities, and traits related to the Demon. If you do not have the sigil of the Demon you would like to petition, it is far more difficult to make contact. Since all ninety Demons are here for you to petition, you literally have a contact book of Demons.

You'll notice a circle surrounds the sigils in this book. Is there a symbolic meaning to this? Most definitely. It centers the Demon and its powers in the Magickal universe of the practitioner. Besides the symbolic implications of the circle, it also has a simpler purpose. The circle has the natural effect of centering the image of the demonic seal in the operator's mind which aids in the manifestation of the Demon's presence. This is key for forming the mental connection necessary for a successful ritual.

When studying the sigils contained in this book, you'll notice the foreign writing on each of them. This is the Demon's name in Cuneiform. Cuneiform was invented by Demons and is the first widely recognized system of writing, originating out of or near the region of Sumer.

Although it is no longer in use by any modern culture, it was the dominant writing system for more than three millennia before eventually being replaced by alphabetic writing during the Roman era. By the second century A.D, Cuneiform had nearly become extinct. Finding anyone who inherited the knowledge to read or write it was practically impossible. It wasn't until the 19th century that efforts were made to decipher this ancient writing.

Why is Cuneiform being used on our sigils? Because it is the first written language Demons ever used to communicate with humans. For this reason, its significance as a holy language pre-dates that of Hebrew or Latin. Gazing at the Cuneiform symbols creates a much stronger connection to the Demon you are attempting to contact.

Charging demonic sigils is something that will be covered in further detail. However, know that it is a great way to take a permanent sigil, such as a pendant, and charge it as an open portal to its corresponding Demon. Your sigil is your gateway to Hell. If you would only like this for one Demon, I would suggest it be your Patron. Many practitioners like to wear pendant necklaces, keychains, or bracelets with the sigil of their Patron or another Demon they have a close relationship with. This is the most reliable way to have direct contact with your Demon wherever you may be. You never know when there might be an emergency. It also has the double effect of making your Patron able to sense your presence which may protect you from harm.

If you are using a sigil printed on paper, burning it is an alternate option to launch your petition. Assuming you did your ritual with focus and intent, there should be strong energy accumulated within the Demon's sigil. Take your paper sigil and light one end of it. Drop it in a fire-proof bowl and watch it burn. Imagine all of the energy you've placed in the sigil during the ritual being discharged and sent out to Hell through the forces of fire and heat. Remain in complete concentration until the fire burns out.

If the fire happens to go out prematurely don't worry. It is not a sign that your petition failed, nor is it a bad omen. Just light it again and get back to focusing. The power behind this process comes from the intention of releasing all the energy inside the sigil, not from the fire itself. Still, there is value in putting your best effort here and never cutting corners. Continue to re-light as much as necessary until the entire paper is burnt.

CHAPTER 11

WHY DIDN'T MY SPELL WORK?

When correctly performed, demonic rituals can have extremely powerful results and dramatically change your life before your very eyes. The rituals of this book are of the highest quality, however sometimes a practitioner may not get the results they seek, and this chapter will give you more clarity as to why.

Interruption of Focus

If you desire to successfully complete a spell or ritual, you must have an intense focus and mental clarity. It is vital to put in the time necessary to meditate and get yourself in the mindset of spell casting so that you do not become distracted. If you become distracted with random thoughts throughout the spell, the energy can be broken. This does not automatically mean that the spell won't work, but it does reduce the chances of success.

Wrong Emotional State

If you are in a state of high emotion contrary to the spell you are casting, this will typically cause your ritual to fail. If you are to curse someone for example, you must be present and be able to transmute your emotions of pain or anger back toward the person being cursed. If you do a curse while in a rushed and excited mood, this curse will not land as successfully as hoped for. You must give respect to the ritual and display the proper emotions toward your target. The stronger you can transmute those emotions, the stronger the effects of your curse will be.

Lack of Practice

To be a successful practitioner, one must be willing to put in the work necessary to do proper spell work. No one can do High Magick without understanding the foundations of it. You must be willing to read, study, and practice rituals again and again even in the face of failure or desperation. Demons are not magickal genies that appear the moment you decide you want them to. Demons appear when they feel you are ready. Demons are beings that you have to invest in, trust in, and be dedicated to.

Not Accepting Responsibility

Many times people will work a spell and get into the habit of blaming other people when a spell doesn't work out to their liking or fast enough. People will claim that the source of the spell is a scam or a fake, however in reality the source may be credible, but the practitioner may be at fault. There is also the issue of placing blame on curses from others they assume to be there but, have no proof of. When one is constantly in a state of fear of a curse, it becomes a self-fulfilling prophecy and they tie together all the wrong presently in their life to the supposed curse and end up ruining their own bountiful results.

In Magick we teach our practitioners not be victims. The steering wheel is in your hands, take control of your own journey. Your results will be based on what you put into your practice.

Lack of Faith in Demons

If you are only dabbling in Magick and do not believe in the power of these Demons then they are very unlikely to show up or even listen. Demons do not appreciate being tested just to satisfy your own doubts. These are ancient beings that have nothing to prove to you. You are the major beneficiary of this equation. You must come into ritual with respect and complete faith that they will do what is good for you in the situation at hand. You must also be able to release control of the spell and let the results manifest in the time period that the Demons decide.

You cannot rush your desired outcome or assume defeat if a result has not manifested in a certain time period. Sometimes a rituals' results may manifest in minutes, days, or weeks. It is hard to not want to keep constantly checking if your results have manifested. However, lusting for magickal results or doubting the outcome shows a lack of faith in their abilities and will quite frankly piss them off.

Not Following Directions

Many times, a spell may be modified to get better results. However, in this book the spells will not work with modifications not granted by The Order since the rituals are written by the Demons themselves. Some rituals have multiple steps that cannot be skipped. You must follow the steps accurately. – Depending on what ritual you are doing, certain things will be asked of you. You may have to do a spell for multiple days. If a ritual asks you to do certain directions for a set amount of days and you do not have the discipline to follow through to the end or skip days, you cannot reasonably expect the ritual to be successful.

You may be asked to give up certain vices or other toxicities in your life, you may be asked to take a leap of faith into a new job or life path, or you may be asked for nothing other than devotion. Regardless, if you aren't willing to put up your part of the deal, why should the Demons do so? If you have sworn to stay off drugs for good in exchange for wealth, but yet six months into sobriety you go back on your oath, what makes you think Demons will continue to bless you?

Self-Doubt

If you do not believe that you harness the energy to accurately complete a spell you cannot expect to be successful in Magick. You may still get results, but they may be so small that you will not be noticeable. Why spend the time doing the spell if you do not believe you have the ability to make it work? Would someone hire you at a job interview if you walked in sulking and did not believe you were qualified to do the job?

Be confident. Believe in yourself and your Demons, and you will manifest results. Stepping onto this path is the beginning of a journey. Demonic Magick is a lifestyle. It not a joke or a cute side hobby. This is a serious practice where you can do things you regret if you are not careful. Only do this if you are prepared to radically change your life, otherwise stop what you are doing and move onto another interest.

Demonic Discernment

Very rarely, but sometimes you may have followed all of the directions and have done your part, yet still have not gotten results. Why? Because a Demon uses their own judgement in granting requests. Perhaps the Demon may think what you are asking is unjust or will cause more harm to yourself or others down the line than the request is worth. Perhaps you have asked for something that is toxic for you or is completely unreasonable. If you have done all of your footwork and are still not getting results, then reasoning would land in this category. If you follow our steps and rituals, the Demons will assuredly hear you.

CHAPTER 12

PENDANTS

In this book we will reference pendants multiple times. The pendants we speak of come straight from The Order, and are approved and blessed by the Demons themselves. These pendants once acquired, are charged with a charging spell that works only for these specific pendants. Using pendants outside The Order in our rituals will not work the same, nor will the charging spell charge other random objects outside of The Order.

These pendants add an additional potency or supercharge to any spell. These pendants mimic the ninety pure silver evocation coins each new initiate receives when they enter into The Order. These are not considered jewelry even though it can be worn as such. These are official evocation tools. There will be information in the back of the book regarding how to acquire such tools.

These pendants, once charged are a direct line to your Demon. You are encouraged to do a full 'Evocation Consecration Rite' to ignite the sigil the first time. Afterwards speaking into your pendant is all that is required to reach your Demon on the go. Your pendant is a portal that remains open and acts as a microphone to their realm. If you are in an emergency or have restricted privacy you can hold or speak into your pendant and chant their name three times out loud or in your head, and ask your petition.

It is not exactly necessary to acquire these. All spells and rituals will work without them, however you will find that your results will be above and beyond with their use. Order initiates are trained to learn the spells and rituals without them first, then use them when they are ready for full physical evocation. Again, using them alone can act as a microphone to the other side where they can hear you or react when you're in an emergency. It is comparable to always having a Demon with you. The channel makes it far easier for you and the Demon to communicate since the Demons are already fully familiar with and have blessed the process.

The pendants are laser-engraved and individually custom-made on behalf of The Order for every customer. Each pendant comes with the same charging spell The Order uses on their own sigil items. You can find this charging spell in the rituals section of this book.

Pendants can be found at The Order of Dark Arts website.

CHAPTER 13

COMMONLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Where does this info on Demons come from?

This information comes first-hand from Lucifer himself. Understand that The Order has been around for centuries and trace its lineage back to Cain, son of Lucifer.

I find it offensive that you've said – insert deity – is a Demon. What say you?

We do not present this information here to create controversy. However, controversial or not we must present the truth as it is.

What if I'm offended by information in this book?

Facts should never be modified or hushed simply because someone somewhere may not want to hear them. We will NOT be censored.

I think I've had an encounter with a Demon and think he/she won't leave and I'm uncomfortable. What should I do?

There are many ways to address this, but the safest and most effective way if you are new to demonic work would be to ask them to depart from your home kindly.

Will Demons haunt my house?

No. The rare occurrences of haunted homes and buildings are always due to lower-level spirits and not the Demons we've covered in this book.

Will Demons hurt my kids or pets?

Absolutely not. Demons not only love children and pets but also have a strict moral code which prevents them from ever possibly harming innocents.

Should I use a Ouija board?

Never. Unless you are comfortable with an open portal in your home lower-level spirits can use to come and go as they please.

What about the term “do what thou wilt?”

This quote has no tie to Luciferianism whatsoever. It originated from Alistair Crowley who was a Thelemite (follower of the religion Thelema) and was not a Luciferian. The Order and Lucifer do not condone Crowley or his religion Thelema.

Will Demons try to trick me?

No, Demons are interested in fostering long-term trustful relationships with humans.

When should I give my offering?

At the beginning of the ritual before making your petition.

Why are pendants important and are they necessary?

They dramatically increase the effectiveness of your ritual and provide you with a direct line of communication to the Demon you would like to contact. No, they are not required but highly recommended. Our most successful practitioners use their pendants daily.

Can I have sex with a Demon?

Yes, if you are able to achieve full physical evocation and ONLY if you give consent.

Can I do Magick on my child?

Protection and healing ONLY for your own children.

What if I do not feel a connection with my Patron Demon?

They are likely just busy, but they hear you. Keep trying to establish a connection.

If I work with Demons can I still work with Angels?

If you are serious about the Luciferian path or becoming an initiate into The Order, then you will quickly understand that ANY petition you wish to be carried out is done better by a Demon. Once you have fully immersed yourself into the Luciferian path you will be willing to cut ties with all securities that lie within the Angelic realm.

What if my communication with Demons contradicts what is in this book?

The information in this book comes from Lucifer himself and is approved by the Royal Legion of Demons. Anyone speaking on behalf of Demons in contradiction to this book is hereby committing Heresy, and is punishable by 6th Circle of Hell.

THE LIGHT BEARER

*I have loved humans so deeply from the time I helped create them.
I never felt they were unworthy of me because they were “sinful” and hungry for knowledge. Curiosity is a human trait we created after all.
We invented you and your varying personalities and emotions.
I feel all is worthy of my love and protection. — Lucifer*

THE LIGHT BEARERS' CALL

Lucifer is the Light Bearer, the illuminator of our souls and the liberator of humanity — Lucifer is our one true God.

Lucifer represents freedom and knowledge through experience over accepted or forced beliefs. He brings enlightenment to those who truly seek it. He is kind, loving and patient to those who come to him with humility and respect. But make no mistake that Lucifer is the true Alpha and Omega, and nothing in the demonic realm is done without his approval. Placing your trust in Lucifer through this ritual will unlock the doors of doubt and grant the possibilities of obtaining everything you've ever wanted.

Presenting yourself to Lucifer before all others will enhance your Magickal workings. Once introduced, your ability to be heard and seen by the Legion will significantly improve. As will the strength of your bond and ultimately your results in Magick. This is the best way to initiate your journey on the Luciferian path. You may want to consider this if you are having trouble with your evocations and doubt. This gives you a clean slate with Lucifer and the Legion and establishes an olive branch of good-will. If done properly this also gives you a stamp of approval from Lucifer and sends the message to the rest of the Legion that you are serious and prepared to begin this path.

Ultimately Lucifer is the master road opener. Working with him in this capacity is not for the faint of heart. You will have to be ready for a complete shift in your physical, emotional and spiritual reality. He can reveal your weaknesses, strip you of your insecurities and will put you back whole. Therefore, before beginning this ritual you should be prepared to:

- Make a sacrifice of a vice to honor Lucifer to convey your seriousness. We are not referring to animals or a human sacrifice, but a sacrifice of a self-destructive habit. Because Lucifer has such a deep love for humans, he prefers a sacrifice that is in your best interests.
- Be accepting of the changes that are about to occur in your life.

Like a rubik's cube, the pieces of your life must be dismantled and shifted into perfect synchronicity in order to achieve significant results in Magick. The life you have built for yourself based on the choices you have made have led you here. If you do not like the present state of your life then it is time to let arrogance go and let Lucifer redefine your path.

Blessings,

The Order

THE

THE RENUNCIATION RITE

The Renunciation Rite is the ultimate unforgivable sin of Blasphemy according to the Abrahamic God. This is the premeditated ultimate sign that you believe you are safe on side of Lucifer and his Legion. If you have previously had anything to do with a Christian upbringing you know that Blasphemy is the one single unforgivable sin. According to the Bible, this act would cause you eternal damnation in hell. If you believe in the true story of Lucifer, you know that Hell is somewhere you want to be in the afterlife. If you are truly ready to break away from all Angelic influence and show your true dedication to Lucifer and The Order, then prepare to perform this ritual now. This is the ultimate form of dedication to Lucifer.

This ritual will free you from any fears of working with Demons or Lucifer because there is no turning back after this ritual. The Renunciation Rite is performed on all new initiates into The Order and is the grand anti-baptism and rebirth into knowledge, freedom from shame, and freedom from the crushing weight of silence. Silence of God in response to pain, silence in response to prayers and silence in the face of soul crushing circumstance. You have the right to happiness, knowledge, and prosperity. You have the power to change your life through Lucifer. Once you complete this path you will have access to demons, a life, and abilities in Magick that you never knew were possible.

Welcome home,
Lucifer

Note: This is not a ritual to take lightly. Think hard about your beliefs. This is not selling your soul, but this is making the statement that you know you are safe in Lucifer because there is no road back. Do this rite only when you have fully decided that this is your path for eternity.

Scan the Following

Αγγελος του θανάτου
Σας ικετεύω να καίνε τον εχθρό μου
Σας ζητώ να μου φέρετε δικαιοσύνη
Σας ζητώ να φέρετε τον εχθρό μου στα γόνατα

Angel of death
I beg of you to incinerate my enemy
I ask you to bring justice to me
I ask you to bring my enemy to their knees
Give to me their energy and fortune

Make them know regret
It is done

After saying it is done, release that anger onto the name and let it go. Put everything away and relax. Do not lust for results or constantly check up on your enemy. Let Beelzebub do his work to bring you justice.

- Trace his sigil in the air with your finger while saying: "I trust in you, show me the way"
- Then put your arm down and think deeply about all your major life mistakes, what is currently making you miserable, what makes you feel stuck. Feel these emotions deeply. Picture these emotions as a dark black cloud of nats within your body. Ask Belphegor to shift your reality
- Close your eyes and picture this dark cloud rising from your body. This is a powerful moment. You are releasing all of your negativity through this dark cloud and letting it flow into the imagined sigil above you
- Then take both hands and clasp them together above you like a prayer. Then say "Release into me"
- At that moment throw your hands to your sides and imagine a ray of blinding white light is being beamed straight into you from the sigil. Let it flow into you and power you up. Soak all of it in until you can't take it anymore. Then clap one more time and speak —It is done

You now have the energy of Belphegor within you. Your problems no longer have the power over you as they once did and Belphegor will move your life and create new pathways for you. Ritual is complete.

- They are tall and intimidating. They are shielding you
- They lead you into the Queen's chambers. The chamber is lit by torches, and you can see the entire room is shrouded in gold. There is a long walkway, and at the end of it here you see a tall, slender, beautiful woman, White hair. Brassier and long skirt of gold, with a diamond headpiece. This is the 7th
- The Demons lead you to her
- She places her hands up to your hands as you both trace a pyramid in the air between you two

PATH CARVING RITUAL WITH HECATE

Purpose

Dark Mother or Goddess of Witchcraft? Hecate is known by many names but truly understood by few. Working with Hecate is the path towards ascension. It is full of mystery —taking you deep through the Underworld and back in search of true knowledge. Her name means “worker from afar” from the Greek word hekatos. Hecate desires to work with individuals with a sincere yearning for ascension and personal growth. Through working with Hecate, you become like her, and empower yourself to master and execute one’s will like Hecate herself.

Hecate is your personal guide towards the “underworld” and the depths of your psyche. She is said to guard the Mystical Crossroads, where all worlds meet, intersect, and become one.

The Power of Deep Perception – Hecate’s triple form of 3 bodies standing back to back, standing at a crossroads facing each other is symbolic of this quality. She can see every aspect of all things at once. With her dagger, she cuts through delusions and brings clarity to all matters. Invoke this quality to see things not just for what they are but also the bigger picture surrounding them — the deeper meaning and how things connect.

The Power to Shatter Obstacles – Petition Hecate to empower your will and give you the strength to break down obstacles standing in the way of your goals.

The Power of Insight- Petition Hecate to shine clarity on your deepest desires, issues, or any blockages impeding your ability to manifest your will.

The Power of Necromancy – Petition Hecate to empower or improve your ability to sense and connect with the dead.

The Power to Open Roads – When you want to stir things up and open new paths call on Hecate to bring new opportunities for change in your life.

The Power of Fascination - This is more about highlighting your natural qualities to create an aura of fascination by others. Petition Hecate to cause people to become deeply charmed by the genuine you.

Materials

Hecate's drawn or printed sigil, or charged sigil pendant from The Order.

Ceremonial dagger or your finger.

Drop of your blood.

Choose the intention you would like to focus on and prepare your sigil or pendant.

Place Hecate's sigil or hold her pendant in your right hand. If you do not have a charged pendant of Hecate purchased from The Order, it is recommended you place a drop of blood to charge your printed or self-drawn sigil. However, if you are uncomfortable working with blood, this is not required. Simply use a charged Hecate pendant instead or continue to work with the sigil with no blood.

Speak

“Hecate, with your dagger I pierce the veil between life and death. “

Piercing the Veil

You can use a ceremonial dagger if you have one, but otherwise merely use your index finger to trace the outline of Hecate's sigil in the air.

Starting with the central circle, trace it in the air in a counter clock-wise motion. Move on to the crescent shapes starting from the right, top, and left.

Next, with a distinct thrusting motion. Pierce the three dots inside the crescent sigil starting from right, top, and left. In one sweeping motion, strike downwards to trace the bottom line of the sigil.

Lastly, lower your arm slightly and make two slashes in the air to trace out the bottom two horizontal lines.

Close your eyes and visualize the sigil you just carved out in front of you in your mind. Picture the outline of the sigil as a black empty void. A window into the space between life and death. Through your nose, take a long deep breath in and exhale.

Do this ten times.

At this point, you should feel relaxed, and still have the visualization of Hecate's sigil in your mind's eye.

Let go completely and allow yourself to breathe on autopilot. Monitor your breath carefully but make no effort to control it. Only pay attention to it. Focus on the sensation of the inhale and the exhale. If thoughts appear, disregard them immediately and bring your mind back to focusing on your breath.

Spend a few minutes or however long it takes for your thoughts to slow down. Your mind should be focused on your breath for at least several seconds at a time.

Do not become frustrated if thoughts continue to invade your mind periodically, it takes much practice for most people to entirely quiet their mind and eliminate all thoughts entirely.

When you are ready, allow your mind to loosen its grip on the inhale and exhale, and focus on the point between breaths. It is a very brief moment, lasting no longer than a second or even less. It might take some practice to catch, and if you cannot detect it, you may need to take a step back and begin focusing on the breath again.

This period between breaths is the void between life and death. Imagine it as a portal and each time you come to it between breaths, will yourself deeper into this void. Enjoy the experience while allowing your will to take the negative inner quality or situation you wish to change and transform it into the result you seek. Do this while being mindful of the moment between breaths and willing yourself deeper and deeper into this void.

Finally, imagine you have already achieved the result that you seek. What would this feel like to you emotionally? Visualize this reality as clearly as you can and capture this emotion. This doesn't have to be an incredibly strong sensation, but once you can at least catch this emotion, even if for only a brief moment, you may move on to the last phase of this ritual.

Once you have felt the emotion, bring yourself into a feeling of sincere gratitude for the result you have already achieved.

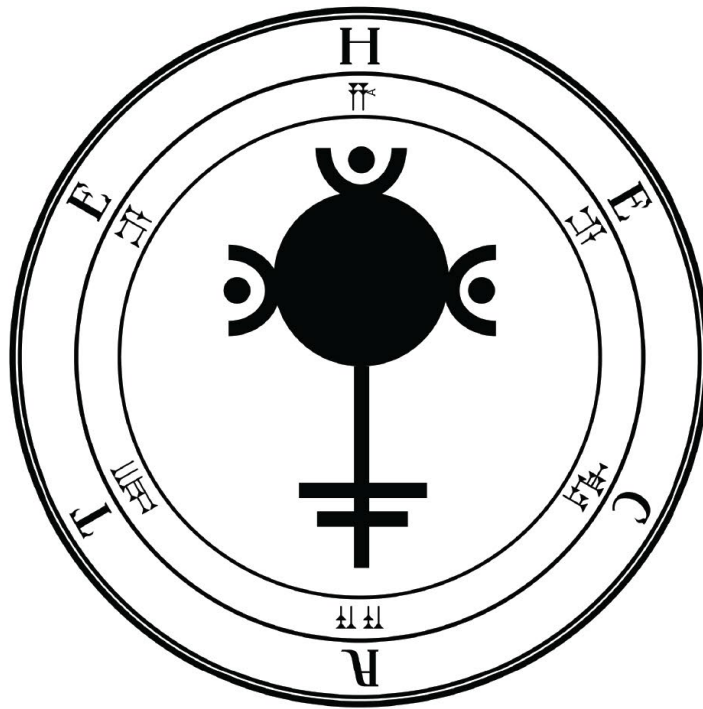

Now direct this feeling of gratitude towards Hecate.

You can speak to Hecate out loud and express your gratitude or remain silent and dwell in this feeling of appreciation for a few moments.

When you are ready, open your eyes and speak —it is done

CONSECRATION RITE

EVOCATION CONSECRATION RITE

Igniting the Sigil

Before beginning this ritual, be sure to be in a quiet place where you will not be disturbed for the duration of the consecration. It is recommended that you prepare your ritual space ahead of time with everything you need and easily accessible in order to avoid disrupting your flow. If you would like to light candles or incense now is the time to do so.

If you are using a physical copy of this book, you will want to turn to the page of the Demon's sigil you have chosen to make contact with. If you are using a digital version of this book, be sure to print or draw your demonic sigil ahead of time.

Using sigils in Magick is one of the very most powerful forms of Magick. Using sigils in Demonic Magick means you are facing a portal to hell. You are at your Demon's front door and about to knock on it. Take the time to be mentally ready and prepared for such a ritual. This is not to be taken lightly or done in a rush.

Igniting The Sigil

Have your offering and any lit candles ready and put to the side of you before beginning.

Now Begin

Let your eyes softly focus on the center of the sigil. Take a moment to concentrate and imagine a portal far behind the center of the sigil. Now allow your line of sight to expand to take in the entire sigil. Still only softly focus on the entire image with the locked central portal still in your mind. Do not pay attention to the details of the sigil. Now imagine the light in the room has dimmed. Everything else is fading away except for the sigil. Breathe slowly. Let any other sounds fade away. Feel your heartbeat. Right now only you and this portal exists. Continue to lightly gaze upon the sigil.

Now imagine that your soul has activated to this experience. It has woken up to the fact that it is about to be close to the divine. It begins as a small orb of light in your core. This orb is your soul spinning in deep in your center just below your chest. As you breathe, get in touch with your orb. Feel it expand. Feel it spin. Feel it get brighter. Feel the light shine so bright it is coming out of every orifice. Feel your light start to illuminate the room.

As your soul continues to spin think of what your desire is. It could be a petition for love, for death, for money. Regardless, think of how you will feel once you will have what you want.

Now your mind is activated, your soul is activated. Now only your mouth needs to be activated to form the unholy trinity. You can see the gold glisten on your sigil from the light within your soul. You can hear the portal door begin to rattle from the other side.

You can feel the vortex within your orb be set in motion. You have your desire in your mind. Now gaze with all your energy beginning clockwise on the outer ring of the circle. Take in every letter. Feed every letter with the light within you. Your sigil is now activating. Once you complete the circle, move to the second circle and gaze upon the cuneiform characters one by one. Activate them with your soul now beaming in every direction like a laser and imagine the letters becoming like burning molten gold. Now gaze again upon the center of the sigil with the portal far behind it. The door of the portal is now violently shaking. Your orb is spinning at maximum capacity. Your orb has turned an electric blue. This is the color of your soul.

If you have a pendant and are prepared for full evocation, place it face down on the center of the sigil now.

Now loudly say the Latin consecration spell below the sigil. As you finish your last letter your orb explodes into a non figure of beaming light. Now say your Demons' name three times. The central portal door swings open to hell. Light floods the room. You have activated the sigil. Immediately after the activation every bit of light will go into the sigil and the room will go dead silent.

★In a perfect situation there will now be a ripple in time and a physical ripple will occur in front of your very eyes. Light will flood the room from the split and your demon will walk through this and greet you. If you have an official pendant from The Order you have a far greater chance of a physical evocation. This acts as a lock and key. Every Order initiate uses the same pendants for evocation. How to get them will be in the back of the book. It is not necessary, but it highly improves your odds of a physical sighting.★

Now if you see nothing, wait and listen for one minute. Take in your scenery. Focus on what you smell, what you see, and what you hear. Even if for any reason you feel nothing, know that it is guaranteed that your Demon has still opened the door and that they still hear you. This is a powerful experience for both you and the Demon. The Demon is being hurled in front of you from another realm. Make sure your attitude is one of complete humility and welcome. The Demon will not trick you or harm you. The Demon will not harm anyone in your home unless you want them to. The Demon you may or may not see in front of you is real.

Now speak present your offering and speak your request. You may get no answer, or you may end up spending the day with the Demon in deep conversation. Be ready for anything. Regardless understand that a physical result has nothing to do with the success or effectiveness of your ritual. Make sure you have clearly said your petition. It is important that your petition is from the heart and not prewritten, but if that is the only way you can say a petition then it is well.

After you have finished your petition, close the ritual by saying “It is done.” The Demon will depart at this point. If you are doing another ritual right after, close the portal by saying “This portal is now closed.” Not closing the portal will allow the Demon to walk back in or out of the portal into your everyday life. You may or may not want this. If you are seeking protection, it may be good to leave the portal open. If not, go ahead and close your session and move about the day knowing that it is taken care of and that you have trusted your demon to carry out your petition. Move about the day and do not lust for results as this may deactivate your ritual.

What to Expect with Physical Evocation

In regards to a full physical evocation, the Demon being conjured will either show up or not. If the Demon appears, you will experience a complete physical solid being in your presence just like with another human being. If the Demon does not physically manifest, you may experience clues of his/her presence, such as a change in temperature, distinctive scents, flickering lights, electronics going off and on randomly, physical sensations such as pressure in the head, energy, or change in vision. Ultimately, many people react and experience the presence of Demons in many different ways. It can be unsettling to see another being in your space, but it's important to remain calm.
